The Department of Mathematics of the Sétif 1 University has a great pleasure to inform you that the Math-Days On Differential Equations, Theory Methods and Applications will take place at Sétif 1 University, during the days April 9-10, 2018.

The main aim of the conference is to bring together researchers and PhD students from all parts of the globe in order to provide a forum for sharing experience, expertise and innovative ideas on analytical and numerical investigations on models based on Differential Equations.

We are proud to bring you a great synergy of expertise from internationally renowned scientists in Differential Equations.
